

Big.first.name is designed to use the full printing area of your badges.

We suggest testing first with plain paper and then with your badge stock.

The lines around each badge show exactly where Big.first.name has calculated where the badge edges should be. Therefore the grey Print Area should be being printed fully inside each badge.

If you are having trouble printing this test page correctly please see the Big.first.name FAQ.